

Zero G Contraindication List

The Zero G should not be prescribed for patients who have the following:

1. Pitting edema
2. Cellulitis in the leg
3. Venous Stasis Ulcers
4. Weigh more than 325lbs*
5. Balance disorders
6. Atrophied or absence of good Gastrocnemius/Soleus muscle belly for suspension (calf muscle)
7. Use discretion with patients with severe loss of protective sensation of the calf
8. Patients who cannot tolerate compression
9. Cannot apply the brace by themselves nor have a caregiver to apply it for them

*Custom Zero G available for patients weighing more than 325lbs